National Humane Week

KINDNESS TO ANIMALS IS —
1. Having your female pet spayed, and also the altering of male cats, for their own sake as well as the public good. They will be healthier and happier.

(25 million unwanted dogs and cats are abandoned in the U.S.A. every year and face starvation or destruction)

2. Complete identification on a collar, worn always.
It is the only sure way for an animal to be restored to its owner, when it is lost.

3. Obedience to local regulations about animals. (In Allegany Co. dogs should not be at large during the night, unless accompanied by owner.)

4. Insistence that food animals be treated humanely. Refusal to buy meat from animals not rendered unconscious before slaughtering. New York State is barbaric in this and federal regulation is needed. Write to President Nixon asking his support of bill No. H. R. 13172.

5. Giving a thought to methods of trapping and killing fur-bearing animals, as well as to the prestige of an expensive new coat; to the effect on impressionable children of gloating over dead deer on a pole, as well as to the bringing of business to a community; in short, to a possible world of the future where there is universal trampling of the weak by the strong.

Would you want to live in it?
