The Parade and Memorial Program at the Greenwood Cemetery Saturday was well done and a dignified service. The community owes a debt of gratitude to Birmingham-Bard American Legion Post for arranging all the details. Legionaries visited all the cemeteries in their territory Thursday to place American Flags on all veterans graves. Virgil Hussey said the first decorating of graves was done at Waterloo, New York. Mr. Hussey spoke of protestors and those in high office who are not in agreement with the present war and said they are not good patriots. Legionnaire Clair Austin read Logons Orders and the Legion Prayer. Mrs. Ethel Cook, Chaplain of the Legion Auxiliary, placed the wreath and was escorted by John Driscoll. The Legion Color Guard men were Larry Woodworth, Larry Vanderhoof, William Schwartz and LeVern Clark.

There was a good attendance at the cemetery for the service.

NEW BOATING CHARTS

With the approach of the boating season the State Conservation Department has published a series of charts covering four of the more popular Adirondack Lakes.

They are: Lake Placid in Essex County, Tupper Lake in St. Lawrence and Franklin Counties; Cranberry Lake in St. Lawrence County, and Upper Saranac Lake in Franklin County.

The chart for each lake accurately depicts the shoreline and gives the location of each buoy placed on the lake by Division of Motor Boats as an aid to navigation. The preferred channels for safe passage through the lake and its tributaries are shown as well.

Facilities for sportsmen campsites, state lands, boat launching sites -- and the name of points islands, bays, brooks and rivers -- all given on the charts.

The chart, for each lake, is printed on waterproof plastic sheets which will withstand several seasons of hard use in small boats. The cover and binding are wear and water resistant.

These charts, developed from aerial photographs of the lakes, are drawn up after the Division of Motor Boats has installed the system of buoys for the guidance of the boatmen. About four lakes are covered each year.

Copies of the new series of charts may be purchased from the Division of Motor Boats, State Conservation Department, Albany, N. Y. 12201. Over-the-counter sales are handled at the Regional Office of Motor Boats in Melville, L. I. Prices of the charts are: Lake Placid, $1; Upper Saranac Lake $1.50; Tupper Lake and Cranberry Lake, $2 each.
