A FAMOUS FEMALE

by Judy Bliss

Women Libers arise and hail Susan B. Anthony! Susan with her great devotion to the female sex showed the world the great capabilities of women. It took a real person to stand up against tradition and fight for a cause as great as women's suffrage. The thing that she realized that many Libers don't today is that women are different from men. They were supposed to be. Women can't lock their elbows and therefore can't lift weights. Most men die younger than women. Susan realized that if women were to gain more freedom, they must accept responsibilities. We should all be proud of this great American and take her ideals and causes seriously.

On February 12, 1809, Abraham Lincoln, the sixteenth President of the United States was born in a log cabin on his father's farm in Hardin County, Kentucky. When Lincoln became President, the nation was growing rapidly. Railroads were being built and farmers were moving west to settle on lands that had never been plowed. The Pony Express was carrying mail to California and in 1861 a telegraph line to the Pacific coast was completed. Young men left the farms to join the army, but those who stayed behind tried to grow more food to feed the soldiers. New factories were built to produce needed military equipment. In 1864 the Bessemer Process for making steel was used for the first time in the U. S. This process helped the rapid growth of the steel industry. For the South the war years were a time of suffering and starvation. Union warships kept southern plantation owners from sending their cotton to Europe. Union armies marched through the South, leaving destruction behind and the once-prosperous South became a land of poverty. For the North and the West, the years after the war were the most rapid period of growth in the Nation's history. But in the South it was many years before this war damage was repaired. The war saw the first battles between ironclad ships. Better rifles were developed and machine guns were used for the first time. Railroads moved troops quickly. In the last year of the war, men learned to fight in trenches. Some military experts consider it the first modern war. It was certainly one of the most destructive. On February 12, everyone should be grateful to Abraham Lincoln for what he did for our country. He surely was one of the great Presidents of the United States of America.

The examination papers of these twenty-five are now being reviewed by Science Research Associates. Lois, therefore, is still being considered for a $1500 or $500 Betty Crocker Scholarship.

Guess Who

The person I am about to describe is a fairly prominent female, who can be seen roaming about the halls here at ACS. She majors in science and Spanish and is an active member of both band and choir. A major part of her time is devoted to music and sports, she also enjoys creative writing. If you have any ideas of who this person is, ask our editor, Judy Bliss and she will tell you whether or not you are correct.

Panther Prowl

by Eileen Atwell

The Panthers chalked up another loss Friday night against Friendship, to make their total record, nine wins and four losses, thus far this season. In league competition, they are tied for first with Scio in an overall record of six wins and three losses. With a final score of 65-53, and after a long hard game, the results were: Mike Dibble, high scorer with 20 points, Brian Cannon with 15 points and Byron Cerillo with 11 points.

Friendship provided not only a large court to play on, but also a tall team to play against as they handed our Jay Vee's another loss. Our boys however seemed to handle themselves well, and finished with almost as much drive as they started out with.
