The idea of a Maple Festival has been in the "dreaming" stage of several Andover residents for many years. Last year, after the Andover Lions Club was chartered, Board of Director members were discussing possible local projects — and the thought of a Maple Festival "popped up." A committee was selected to pursue the possibilities and report back after summer vacations were over. Then came the disastrous June flood — and most thoughts and energies were devoted to flood recovery.

This winter, the committee reported back to the Lions membership body, and it was almost unanimously voted to sponsor the Allegany-Steuben County Maple Festival — despite the short time available. Several Andover Lions members met with the co-chairmen of the "Central New York" Maple Festival Committee in Marathon, N. Y., where a very successful festival had been launched just three years ago, and returned with a "wealth" of pertinent information that was very useful in "finalizing" the plans — with the results of these efforts on public display in our "Festival Show Case" for all visitors to see.
