Southern Tier West Offices Open

People living in the three southern tier counties of Allegany, Cattaraugus and Chautauqua may now look at a full-time staffed regional agency for assistance in regional development and federal aid coordination. This is the organization known as the Southern Tier West Regional Planning and Development Board, first created by the three county legislative bodies in 1969 and operating on a part-time basis until February of this year.

During the month of February the Board, acting in the face of a mandatory federal aid requirement that multi-county groups in New York State maintain full-time regional planning and development offices, hired a director and secretary and set up offices at 15 Main Street in Salamanca, New York. The person selected as director was Roy Campbell, formerly planning director for Cattaraugus County and recently returned to the U. S. after work with the Peace Corps at the University of Tehran in Iran. Mrs. Linda Chesner of Olean, New York is serving as secretary-stenographer for the new office. Telephone number is Area Code 718-945-5303.

Southern Tier West expects to continue its role as regional clearinghouse for many types of federal aid applications originating among local communities and requiring regional review before proceeding to the federal agency. However it also expects to become more involved in the pursuit of economic development and environmental improvement within the three counties. This has been made possible through a recent grant award by the Appalachian Regional Commission to the Southern Tier West region for administrative costs in setting up and operating as a "Local Development District".

The Southern Tier West region covers an area of 3,463 square miles and contained, according to the 1970 census, 275,429 persons in its population. Growth of the population has been slow during recent decades as has been that of the area's industrial economy. Shortages of skilled labor, technological change, increased costs of supplying public services and decreasing demands for unskilled labor have contributed to this slow growth. The immediate term outlook is for continued expansion in construction of recreational facilities, in second home development and in other fields, while industry within the three counties may continue to face problems of economic adjustment.

NOTICE
