AN OVERDUE THANK YOU

With Easter vacation out of the way, and school settling into its routine, it seems a good time to bring into light a club that has achieved more in a year than all the school organizations put together.

The club is the Andover Lions Club made up of ambitious men from Andover. These men quietly give up time and energy to help the community. With the school being an important part in the community, the Lions have shown great interest in A.C.S. This club through fund raising campaigns purchased fiber glass backboards. Last fall at the soccer games you may have noticed the new "Bleachers for Screechers", and these same ones used during the basketball season, were also donated by the Lions Club. Two students received scholarship money from the Lions last year. By organizing the Maple Festival, the Lions provided fund raising projects for groups in the school. Just recently they donated money towards badly needed track uniforms.

The students at A.C.S. appreciate, and are very thankful to the fine club. It's one thing to complain about existing conditions, but it's another thing to stand up and do something about it. The young people of this school should take a good look at the Lions Club and its service, and learn what it takes to get something done.

The projects the Andover Lions Club have done for us are many, but more important is the respect and understanding that has grown between the adults and youth of Andover.

On Wednesday April 18 the Panthers journeyed to Scio for a friendly meet. Richburg won the meet with 97 points followed by Scio with 86 Andover with 51 and Belfast with 13. Considering how young this year's team is and how early the season is, the team did quite well. Seniors' Views of Washington

The thing that impressed me the most about Washington was its cleanliness. In most cities there are very few trees and other forms of vegetation, but in Washington, there were many beautiful trees and flower gardens.

I was most impressed by the Watergate Apartments. These apartments cost from $3,000 to $10,000 a month.

The Capitol Building was most impressive with all of the beautiful paintings on the walls and the long hallways. The ceilings were pretty impressive because of the height and all of the architecture. I also liked the House and the Senate rooms.

The thing that impressed me the most on our trip to Washington was John F. Kennedy's grave.

I especially liked the architecture in the Library of Congress. The Washington Cathedral was unbelievable.

Our visit to Mt. Vernon was very interesting also. It was especially beautiful at this time of year, because of all the trees being in blossom.

Our visit to J. F. Kennedy Center for the Performing Arts was most enjoyable. It had a huge auditorium and a great marble interior. The most impressive thing about Washington was all the huge stone and marble buildings. The changing of the guard at the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier was very interesting.

I was most impressed with the people I met while in Washington. It is remarkable how pleasant the guards and like personnel remain after leading people through the various buildings day after day, and how often they are informed of fact the guards were more informative than the tour guides. The personnel of the Bureau of Printing and Engraving were especially friendly as was a guard in the Supreme Court Building.

The most impressive architectural site that I saw was the Dome of the Library of Congress.

I felt that the Library of Congress was very impressive. It contained so many books and was such a massive structure. The Pentagon Building was also very nice. The whole city was very clean except for the ghetto areas where the riots were. Embassy Row and the National Cathedral were also interesting. The National Cathedral was so massive and it still isn't completed, but I liked it. The moon rocks and meteors along with the coin exhibits at the Smithsonian Institute were also nice. All in all the whole trip was fun and interesting.

The most interesting thing during the tours was visiting the FBI Building. They had all sorts of interesting weapons. They gave a demonstration with a machine gun which was really fascinating. They had one type of every gun ever made.

The Smithsonian Institution in Washington is an absolutely amazing place. There are many different buildings, but the one I enjoyed the best was the National History and Science Building. In this building, we saw all the gowns that the first ladies wore to the inaugural balls and also the famous Hope Diamond. There are so many things there that it would be impossible to see everything, but what we did will always be remembered.

Panther Prowl

by Eileen Atwell

The Andover Panthers put out a fine effort as they won the first baseball game of the season April 17. Their victory was against Richburg, with a final score of 16 to 10. Our boys were pretty strong at the bat and held out picking up enough runs to win the ballgame.

all had a lovely vacation for Easter and we were happy to get back to school again to tell about our fun. We had only one birthday in April. Cindy Outman became 7 on April 6. We have two birthdays in May. Michael Joyce will be 7 on May 15 and Judy Densmore will be 7 on May 23. Happy Birthday to all!

During our vacation, Kevin Perkins visited an aunt in Birdsall. Shawn Carson took a trip to North Carolina, Florida and Texas. He was a lucky boy because the Easter Rabbit caught up with him in North Carolina. He got a truck filled with candy from the Bunny. John Dean went to Hornell to visit his grandmother. One of his gifts was a 22 shotgun. That's a big gift for a small boy. John also visited his other grandmother up Indian Creek Hill. Cheryl Merriam visited her big brother, Bob and part of Cheryl's Easter gift was a jar of bubbles which pleased her very much.

Tammy Ordiway went to Buffalo to visit her grandmother. She received a Panorama Egg and a new jump rope with her Easter basket. Jeffery Carl's grandmother came from Pennsylvania to visit him for Easter. But a much nicer visitor was Mother's return from the hospital. Jeff received a can with a surprise snake in it. Kevin Snell visited his grandmother in Bath and received some new pants and a shirt from her. Kevin also received a new puppy he is calling "Jannior". Todd Fanton went to Wellsville again. His Easter Basket was a pail and shovel. George Perry got to visit his Dad in the hospital and then went to Buffalo and stayed overnight with his grandmother. Jennifer Lehman travelled to MacDonald's, but she received a stuffed turtle for Easter.

Douglas Howland told us all about the real live parrot that his sister got. Michael Joyce, Walter Hurlburt and Susan Lehman went fishing. Susan also got a new baby sister named Lisa. Tammy Ward had an infection in her leg and Judy Densmore had an infection in her eye. But they were both well for Easter. Thomas Middaugh was off the week before Easter vacation. Thomas had to have an operation. He is well now and we are glad to have him back.

Grade 1 -- Ruth Manske -- Lisa Cole and Michelle Emery have been excited about being flower girls in recent weddings. Helena
