ton, apparently indestructable, construction bulldozer. Serwacki has sometimes substituted equally powerful high-lift type machine which actually suspends the helpless cars in the air. Such as a prehistoric gargole would attempt to devour its meal. Needless to say, the exciting event can easily take your breath away.

On the competition scene at both speedways, the Permatex Company and NASCAR announced a record $100,000 program for the 1973 NASCAR Late Model Sportsman and Modified Divisions this season.

Permatex is one of the nation's leading manufacturers of automotive seal and adhesives and has been involved in the sport of auto racing since 1909 when Bonnie Oldfield used a Permatex product in a race at Sheeps Head Bay, New York. We always knew the best begins in New York.

The Permatex track championship program will award $1,000 to each NASCAR track champion in the Late Model Sportsman and Modified Divisions.

Other new phases of the program include a Permatex championship feature race at each track, the Miss Permatex (USA) contest at both tracks and each track's champions trips to the Permatex 300 during speed week at Daytona Beach in 1974.

During the year, each participating track will run at least one Permatex championship feature event where Permatex will award the winners trophy, a fastest qualifier trophy, a trophy for the best appearing car and a display for the trophies. Many of the Permatex feature races listed on the 1973 schedule are special events.

National Association for Stock Car Auto Racing President France said, "To our competitors in the Late Model Sportsman and Modified Divisions; the Permatex program is as equally important as any program in auto racing today." At each action track, in addition to the Late Model Sportsman competition all race cards will include the Limited Sportsman Coupes and
