

"TREATS FOR TOTS" — FUN FOR ALL YOUTHS!

An Editorial

Last year it was very gratifying to see that Andover Central School Students were capable of showing good judgement in their treatment of Hallowe'en.

To the best of our knowledge the Village Streets were kept clean all evening, thereby eliminating the possibility and danger of any motorist being injured or having their autos damaged from this source.

We also credit the parents and grown-ups for contributing their share towards making it the most quiet and damage free Hallowe'en here in many years.

Of course, there was the usual amount of window soaping and hi-jinks that is normally considered part of Hallowe'en.

This year we would again like to see this exemplary type of conduct shown by both the children and parents as well as the rest of the grown-ups.

We certainly can't see where any useful purpose can be served or strength of character developed in young people of today if parents allow half or two-thirds grown children to roam the streets with large paper bags collecting their loot in a door-to-door canvass under the threat of "Tricks or Treats"! To us, this appears as a modified type of blackmail because the gist of the expression is that if you don't give me a treat I'll pull a dirty trick on you!

How much better it sounds to have a "Treat for Tots" expression for the tiny kids to use when they are all dressed up in their Hallowe'en costumes and go to pay their neighbors a brief call to show off their finery, and of course accept a hand-out if offered.

In past years the Chamber of Commerce and members of the American Legion got together and put on a program for all local school children. This was well attended with everyone appearing to have a good time.

This year on Wednesday night, there will be the usual Costume Parade starting at the Legion Park at 7:00 p. m., with the Andover Central School Band, followed by the annual bonfire after which cider and donuts will be served by the local Chamber of Commerce.

The success of these ventures will be strictly up to the Students of Andover Central School! It has resulted from their suggestions and good behaviour in the past and they will be reaping the harvest!

Let's hope that the interest shown by the adults in making this possible won't be in vain!

NRA HUNTER'S CODE OF ETHICS

1. I will consider myself an invited guest of the landowner, seeking his permission, and so conducting myself that I may be welcome in the future.
2. I will obey the rules of safe gun handling and will courteously but firmly insist that others who hunt with me do the same.
3. I will obey all game laws and regulations, and will insist that my companions do likewise.
4. I will do my best to acquire those marksmanship and hunting skills which assure clean, sportsmanlike kills.
5. I will support conservation efforts which can assure good hunting for future generations of Americans.
6. I will pass along to younger hunters the attitudes and skills essential to a true outdoor sportsman.

A lot of Gov. Rockefeller's close supporters were unhappy that President Nixon chose Rep. Jerry Ford instead of their man to replace former Vice President Agnew.

And a lot of the governor's enemies were also unhappy. Many of them saw it as a chance to get rid of the governor.

Now things are back to normal and everyone is wondering if Rocky will run for governor again or forego it and run for the presidency in 1976 as a private citizen. The betting is still that he will run for governor again.

For one thing the governor won't want to pass up the opportunity of seeing the massive South Mall completed while he is in office — and having it named after him.

With the election closer, it is now easier to predict that the mass transportation bond issue is in deep trouble across the state and will probably go down to defeat.

Ironically, its defeat could have an impact on the size of the tax cut Rocky is almost certain to offer the Legislature at the 1974 session — an election year.

If the bond issue is defeated there will be tremendous pressure on the budget surplus — democrats say it will amount to as much as $900 million — for such items as more school aid and for mass transportation.

Much of the push will come from New York City transportation lobbyists, but it will also come from upstate as well.

A record number of upstate school district budgets were defeated time and time again this year because of the jumping tax rates. Some school officials blamed it on the fact that school districts received little new money in the form of school aid.

An interesting question next year will be how much of this will be passed on to local Assemblymen and Senators when they come up for reelection.

The answer to that may be a big boost in state aid to school districts during the 1974 session in Albany.

Rockefeller has appointed Howard Shapiro, 34, of Albany, as the new chairman of the State Commission of Investigation, the group that goes around the state peering into allegations of municipal corruption and mismanagement.

Shapiro was a member of the governor's legal staff, that group of lawyers who spend 16 hours a day during legislative sessions writing bills and ironing out thorny legislative problems.
