Alfred University's Art Dept. To Hold Two Holiday Concerts

Alfred University's performing arts department will offer family holiday concerts Dec. 15 and 16 in two campus locations. The area public is cordially invited to attend without charge.

On Saturday, the 15th, at 7:30 p. m., in Harder Hall Theater, the department will present a Christmas concert by the University Chorale, Concert Band and Chorus. The program will open with a "Christmas Fanfare" by the combined chorale and chorus, followed by selections from the works of Palestrina, Houston Bright, Newbury and Knight by the 22-voice chorale. Paul D. Giles, assistant professor of music, is the director.

The second portion of the program will include works by Mozart, Persichetti and Clifton Williams performed by the concert band under the direction of James W. Chapman, instructor of music. The program will end with a complete performance of the Christmas Oratorio by Saint-Saens, presented by the Alfred University Chorus under the direction of Mrs. Betty Giles, lecturer in music.

On Sunday, December 16, the Baroque Ensemble for voice, viola, oboe, bassoon and harpsichord will present a 7 p. m. concert in Howell Hall of works of Handel, John Blow and Corelli.

Special features of the program will be the vocal trio from Bach's Christmas Oratorio and a suite for oboe by Hotteterre.

Miss Eleanor Howells, lecturer in music, is the ensemble director.

A 40-watt fluorescent bulb gives more light than a 100-watt incandescent one, and lasts 10-times longer and uses half the energy, reports Long Island Lighting.

Do not use a non-vented kerosene heater in a house because, under the best of adjustments, they produce carbon monoxide and other poisonous or noxious vapors which can cause death.
