A few Belles have been playing softball and made the painful discovery that (our spirit is willing but the flesh is weak) to play the game. In any event, it is done in a spirit of fun. Hope some more of you Belles can schedule some games.

The Bells for the Pins have arrived at the Sesqui-Centennial Headquarters. All you Belles that are (Bell-less) are welcome to drop in for these bells for your pins. Also, those girls who still have the plain pins can exchange them at the Sesqui-Centennial Headquarters for the original pins that were delayed in shipment.

There are 19 Sesqui-Centennial Queen Candidates that were introduced at the Tea last Sunday.

The Fashion Show and Baking Contest are moving right along thanks to the Committee involved in these activities. The Charimen for the Gown-Judging Segment of the Sesqui-Belle Day will be announced soon. The Gown-Judging is a separate activity from the Fashion Show.

The prizes for the Baking Contest entries are very special mementos of the Sesqui-Centennial - well worth competing for.

Crash work accentuates the race program. This week-end Jim Crash Moreau of Bangor, Maine, will be the featured attraction in addition to the regular racing program at both Holland International Speedway on Saturday, June 29th and Sunday, June 30th at Perry Motor Speedway. The nationally famous Crash work artist has been seen at many Speedways and featured many times on television.

His main event is crashing a flaming car off of a ramp broad side into another car. Many thrill shows include crash work of this type but none have the famous (Flaming Car). In addition, Moreau will test his skill and nerve by crashing an automobile into 2 tons of ice. A most spectacular feat.

Clark of West Sebeka share the respective leads in the Late Model Sportsman at Holland and Perry. Edwards finished third during the 1973 season and has positioned himself for the number one spot for a six week period. Clark who was edged by Flaig for the Perry Championship in the 1973 season so far has been virtually undefeated.

Charlie Neumann of Buffalo who is a regular Patrolman on the City of Lockport Police Force, continues to dominate the Limited Sportsman Division with five straight victories at the Perry Oval. A veteran of many years, Neumann has received stiff competition from John Carpenter of Angola and Dick Miller of Leroy. "DON'T GIVE UP" by Elaine Bronson

Mr. Jordan, Reverend Clergy, Members of the Board of Education, faculty, relatives, and friends:

The graduating class of 1974 would like to welcome you to our commencement exercise. It is a big step in our lives and we are happy to be sharing it with you.

Some of us find it hard to believe we have finally made it. It seems as though the time passes so slowly while attending school, but then graduation is upon us and we are asking ourselves, "What happened to those thirteen years?" We may regret leaving, but we are really looking forward to what the future holds for us.

It is a challenge, and a pretty big one, to venture into a world we have been somewhat sheltered from during our school years. We won't have our parents or teachers around all the time to advise us when we are confronted with a problem. It will be necessary for us to become more independent, and as individuals, look after our own interests and find our own identity. We admit this won't be an easy task, but the knowledge we have gained through school will never be forgotten, and should prove beneficial to us.

The one main lesson we have learned through school is that we are not governed by fear. We have found some unknown force within us that has pushed us forward. We realize that the fear we seemed to have of our teachers during our grades, disappeared in our high school years. We haven't done our work because of fear; but because we knew deep down that pursuing our studies would prove beneficial to us. We have learned to respect and look up to our teachers, not to fear them. This indomitable force which has carried us through school will remain with us in all that we attempt. Fear will no longer propel us.

We might compare our future years to the experience of hunting for the first time. When a person goes hunting, he is hopeful, excited, and worried all at the same time. He ventures into the woods with hopes of shooting some game so he will have something to show from his adventure. If he doesn't obtain this goal, he feels let down, but glad that he will have the opportunity to try again. However, if he succeeds, he feels proud for awhile but is then ready to proceed for something bigger and better.

This is how it is when we graduate. We are anxious and worried about what the future holds for us. Most of us, as we go out into the world, have a definite goal which we hope to accomplish. If we fall in this goal we are saddened, but realize that we do have the opportunity to try again. On the other hand, if we achieve this goal we are satisfied for a time, but are then ready to attempt something better.

In both graduating and hunting there is one essential idea to remember. Never be completely satisfied whether you win or lose. There will always be something better out there waiting for you. Just don't be afraid or too lazy to reach out for it.
