VA Insurance

Benefits Increased

Washington (ANF) - Increased and extended insurance coverage is being offered to 6.8 million active duty servicemen, ready reservists and veterans as a result of the New Veterans Insurance Act being signed into law.

Some major provisions of the Act now in effect, according to Veterans Administration (VA) officials, are:

-An automatic increase in the maximum Servicemen's Group Life Insurance (SGLI) coverage from $15,000 to $20,000 for active duty personnel and ready reservists unless they decline the additional coverage in writing.

-Full-time SGLI coverage extended to about one million members of the ready reserves.

-SGLI coverage provided for another 100,000 reservists who are retired or will be retired, have not reached their 61st birthday, and have completed at least 20 years of service creditable for retirement.

For veterans, effective August 1, a five-year nonrenewable Veterans Group Life Insurance (VGLI) will be offered with coverage in amounts of $5,000, $10,000, $15,000 and $20,000. Servicemen leaving active duty can convert their SGLI to VGLI without medical examination.

Also eligible for VGLI are 2.7 million veterans whose SGLI terminated less than four years ago. Applications from this group of veterans must be made this August 1, 1975, the VA said.

When an individual's five-year term VGLI runs out, he may convert to an individual policy by applying in writing to a company participating in the VGLI program.
