There was a little quote which seemed to catch my eye the other day. It stated that "getting mad" will get you nowhere and I couldn't help but disagree. How many times have people been motivated out of pure anger to take some sort of action, be it good or bad?

Let me cite a few examples. What about the last quarter of a soccer game, with the score tied or the team behind by one, when someone finally got so fed up with himself, the team, the competition or even the time, that he seemed suddenly to burst with energy and made the deciding goal. Or what about the individual that gets so fed up with the noise that constantly dominates his study hall that his anger drives him to look for something better, possibly in the idea of a student lounge. Then there's the individual who is angered by his ignorance or laziness and suddenly turns into the studious "book bug". Maybe you were once angered by the seemingly juvenile action of your classmates and helped them the best way possible by telling them to group up or take it easy on each other. There are times when anger can get out of hand and you really end up no better than before, and in extreme cases, even worse than before.

For the most part though, the only time your anger can get out of hand is if you let it. I guess it all boils down to experiencing the outstanding quality of self-control. "Getting mad" can motivate many good ideas and actions. One just has to know how to use his anger in the right way. So, if you really feel as if you need it, "get mad". Maybe it'll help not only you, but others as well. Remember we're only human and emotions such as anger are just a way to remind us.

The Slave Auction last Tuesday turned out very well. The Future Homemakers made approximately twenty-five dollars. We would like to thank Mr. Russell for his fine job of auctioneering, all the high school boys and a few teachers who participated.

The Senior FHA girls are now out selling Christmas products. We would appreciate the help from our community.

The Junior FHA organization has now been formed. The officers are as follows:

- President — Denise Tomm
- Vice-President — Kelley Dunham
- Secretary — Lisa Howland
- Treasurer — Becky Lang
- Historian — Stephanie Lehman
- Recreation Chairman — Sue Bliss

by Mike Bliss

The Andover Soccer Team had a fair week last week, but they ended up "neck and neck" with Belmont in a tie for first place in the Class D Southern Division.

On Monday, October 7, Andover met arch rival Belmont only to be defeated in the closing six seconds by a score of 2 - 1. A hand ball in Belmont's Penalty Area enabled them to score a penalty kick thus dropping us back to second place. Tim Mead had Andover's solo goal.

Then Wednesday at Alfred-Almond, Andover fell 1 - 0 in double overtime. The Panthers missed a chance for a tie as they missed a penalty kick in the closing seconds.

However, Belmont played Scio on Wednesday and were defeated, thus placing the Panthers in a tying position for first if they could beat Scio on Monday. They did! The Panthers scoring unit racked up four goals between Gary Barden, Jay MacMichael, Rick Cabell and Mike Bliss. The defense held the Scio Tigers to just two goals, one of them a penalty kick.

Andover is now tied with Belmont at 4 - 2 in League action. We have won 6 and lost 4 overall this year.

The next game is on Friday, October 18, against Whitesville at home and our final regular season game is Tuesday against Richburg at home.

CROSS COUNTRY

by Curt Vars

On Saturday, October 12, the Andover Cross Country Team participated in the Alfred-Almond Invitational. This is an annual event with schools sectioned into five divisions: Junior High, J.V., and Classes A, B, and C.

Andover ran in Class C. After a good performance by Marty Grossman, we took twenty-fourth out of twenty-four teams. Of 148 runners, John Davis took 42nd, Charlie Dougherty took 96th, and Scott Wilson got 95th.

Congratulations — boys!

Pantherettes

by Sara Pantom

The girls' Soccer Team made it a solid victory for Andover, Friday, October 11, by beating Scio 2 - 0. The first goal of the game was made by Teresa Jove in the first half. Kathy Haskins made a goal the second half to help reassure the pantherettes. The girls are tied for second place now and hope they can hold on.

The next game is Thursday, October 17 at Whitesville. We would like to wish them the best of luck and compliment them on their great efforts so far this year.

Regents Scholarship Exam

On Thursday, October 10, approximately twenty-five seniors of ACS took the Regents Scholarship Exam with Mr. Russell as their proctor.

The examination offers a general college scholarship designed for high school graduates as well as providing an important additional item of information for guidance and college admission purposes for all students. The results of this examination will be published sometime during December.

ACS Students To Visit Alfred Tech

Most of the juniors and a few seniors will have the opportunity of attending the annual Fall Visiting Day Program at Alfred State Tech on Thursday. The students will be accompanied by Mr. Russell. Each student will visit the department of his own choice, tour the campus, and in general experience college living for a day. Students interested in the Wellsville branch of Alfred Tech will be bused there to view their curriculum.

Kindergarten, Mrs. Griffiths — Vicki Slade has a new puppy named "Sparky". Tim Brown is going into the hospital to have his tonsils out.

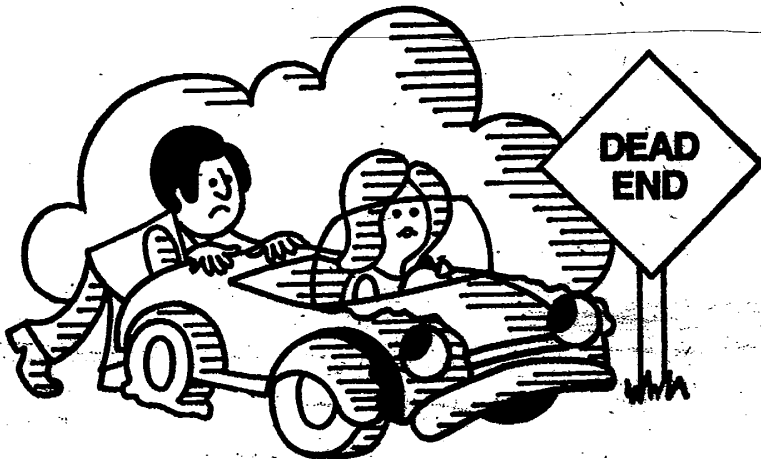

Kindergarten, Mrs. Morris — Jude Wahl's birthday is October 17 and Kelly Carson will have a birthday October 28. We have some new baby guppies in our room.

Grade One, Mrs. Burdick — The first grade came to school all bright and shiny ready for work in a new room with new books and some new friends. The new friends we welcome are: John Niedermaler who came here from the Canisteo school, George Hall who came all the way from Texas and Leland Brown who really came last Spring. Last but not least, we have a new Student Teacher, Miss Rosenthal. Miss Rosenthal lives way down by the big city of New York.

We have already wished "Happy Birthday" to Todd Lewis who become six on September 11 and Mary Dunning who became six on September 19 and Douglas Miller who became six on September 20. This month we will have only one birthday. That will be John Niedermaler's who will be seven on October 24. A Big "Happy Birthday" to all of them. We were all so happy when we came back to school this year and saw how
