Men and boys are being asked to sit on the right side and women and girls on the left side of the sanctuary as in former days. The service will include a Favorite Hymn sing with some Hymns being "lined out" for the congregation by the pastor. The Andover Choir will present the Anthem "Ode to Our Country."

Members of the congregation have been invited to respond to two questions for a sharing time in the service which will replace the sermon. The questions are: "What are you most appreciative of in our American Heritage?" and "What do you think we should repent of or change in order to have a successful future?"

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Tuesday, July 29, 1976
Dear Editor:
Since Andover is celebrating the Bicentennial this weekend, July 4, why wouldn't it be wise to serve as an example for our future generations, by filling our churches, July 4th?
How can we say "In God We Trust" on all the money we use if we are not concerned about our churches? And if we do to others as we would like to have them do unto us, wouldn't it be a better world?
When we can enjoy the beautiful heavens, the moon, the stars, the sea, and the land that God made man to have charge over everything, shouldn't we learn how to live God's way?
Name withheld on request

Dear Editor:
My son recently had to undergo a painful series of shots with the rabies vaccine!
Question: Is rabies still a major problem?
Answer: A dog's bite is still worse than his bark!

The humane society reports that 3 million dog bites are suffered annually. The incidence of rabies is at its lowest point in history yet, at least 30,000 persons a year have to take the shots as a preventative measure.
