Practice Teachers

This year we have two practice teachers. We are expecting an additional practice teacher later on in the year. Our practice teachers are Kathleen Scesa and Mary Ann Totaro. They are here from September to December.

Miss Kathleen Scesa is a practice teacher for Mrs. Marsh, a third grade teacher. She is currently living in Alfred, her home town is Goshen, New York. She is attending Alfred University as a senior where she is majoring in Elementary Education. After Miss Sesa graduates in May she plans on being an elementary teacher. Miss Scesa likes Andover a lot, it reminds her of Goshen.

Miss Mary Ann Totaro is also a practice teacher. She is practice teaching for Mrs. Harder, a third grade teacher. She is a senior at Alfred University majoring in Elementary Education. She will graduate from there in January 1977. She plans on being a grade teacher after she graduates. Miss Totaro is from New Jersey, near New York City. She likes our school "a real lot". "It's small and friendly and everyone knows everyone," said Miss Totaro.

Students Hold Election

by Teresa Joyce

On Monday, October 25, grades 7-12 held a mock election for President, Senator and Congressman.

The students voted during their history classes and the results were tabulated at the end of the day. Gerald Ford and Robert Dole were the students' choice for President and Vice President. James Buckley was the victor in the senatorial race and Stanley Lundine was the choice for Congressman.

High School students have been discussing the candidates and their issues in their history classes. The purpose of the election was to give the students a better understanding of the election process, including the use of the voting machine.
