From Our Files

ist whom the Troopers were looking for in jail. The racket he was working for was to pass as an employee of the Dresser Co., wishing to cash a pay check on that Company. He evidently had a number of specially printed checks which he made out in favor of different people then endorsed them himself and cashed them in various stores. Two of these checks one for $43 and another for $48 were cashed in Andover, one by the Clair's Pharmacy and the other by Eugene Hurd. Becoming suspicious of his check Mr. Clair called the State Police and found that they were looking for such a person on similar checks cashed in Wellsville and immediately came to Andover and took the man and two women with him into custody.
