Daffodil Day

by Becky Lang

The American Cancer Society does many services for the county. This society was represented by having the symbol of hope, the daffodil being spread all around the county on Thursday, March 24, 1977. Approximately 200 daffodils were available for 25c for students in grades 7 - 12. Fifteen business and service organizations around Andover donated a daffodil for each student in Grades Kindergarten - sixth. Each of those students that were given a daffodil received a letter. This letter was to make the parents aware of the many services around the county the American Cancer Society provides for them.

Three students took daffodils around town and some were available at the bank. We would like to thank anyone who helped in any way to make Daffodil Day a success.
