Press Day

by Lori Stelb

The journalism class attended St. Bonaventure for their annual Press Day. The special guest speaker was Jimmy Breslin, who was enjoyed immensely. Offered to the hundreds of students, were different panels featuring various speakers involved in journalistic occupations, including many of the people seen on local TV News programs. The students left the campus with added knowledge of many subjects which will be helpful in future years.

Feature

The Andover school district has another family in it. There are five members in this family. They live the closest to the school of any family.

The family arrived this spring. The Spanish class and Journalism class of Room 214, have become friends with them. It is a shame that they are flying south this fall. We hope our family of birds will return to their nest in the spring. Seeing the young ones grow has given us much pleasure.
