Greenwood Soccer Team lost nine Seniors from the 1976 Team Richard Smith, Coach, had 11 men turn out, five lettermen for a nucleus in the 1977 season. He has a young team, which will depend on determination, and motivation to start. Last year Greenwood had no individual standout, but more balance with goal scoring spread among Derek Cerrillo, Leon Babcock and Mike Holt. Scott Rollins and Donald Wallace were good team men and Dennis Losey. This year, Kevin Moore, a Junior is out as he injured his knee in August and had surgery to remove cartilage. His brother, Howard Moore a Senior, missed last year when he fractured his wrist in the summer. Other returning Seniors are Don Simonini, Gerald Neuenchwander, and John Edwards. Junior lettermen are Jim Putnam, Brad Hoyt, Tom Babcock and Dave Adderly. Smith says he thinks he will have another balanced team giving all a chance to share points.

They did not want to be included in an Agricultural District proposed for the Southwestern part of the County. The proposed District primarily would cover the Towns of Greenwood, Jasper, Hartsville and Canisteo. The petition now goes to the State for final approval.

Have you, the people of Andover, stopped lately and taken a good look at yourselves and the town that you are a part of? If you have, you probably aren't very happy with the picture.

What used to be a town composed of people ready and willing to help another and serve the community has turned into a mad race to see who can earn the most money or degrade the character of the most people.

It seems a bit hard to understand why the town has changed, but the changes are in almost every aspect of our daily lives in Andover: in school, in church and even between families. Andover, once a slow-paced, friendly town, is becoming increasingly unfriendly toward newcomers. In addition, the moral decline of our country in general seems to be reflected in Andover.

I can't really offer any immediate solutions to our many problems here, but I myself, and some others, stand behind my family my church, and my school.

Everyone has their own personal ideas about who they think made important contributions to mankind in our past history. What someone else may think is important, another person may see no purpose in. So, if I asked a hundred different people who they think made an important contribution to mankind, I would probably get a hundred different answers.

Who do you think made some kind of significant contribution? Do you think Karl Marx did when he proposed to the world his theories on democratic socialism and revolutionary Communism? Do you think Elvis Presley did for being the "King of Rock 'n Roll"? Do you think you yourself did for not throwing that pop can in the gutter and thereby helping to stop pollution in the world?

Whatever your own personal beliefs are, everything is here to stay, and everything has its own importance simply because we must continue to deal with all these things that have been passed to us from the preceding generations.
