NEW AND IMPROVED
GYM CLASS
by Marcella Smith

Have any of you students or teachers noticed any weird looking steam coming from the girls' locker room? What's going on down there? And what are all those dittos about that the girls are stuffing into their notebooks after class? Have they committed some serious offense in gym class and have to do research papers for punishments? No, of course not. What is happening is the result of a recent change in the outlook on girl's physical education.

I know you've probably never heard of a gym class being "new and improved" as everything else is these days, but that is exactly what it is. Now girls are being offered a more complete course in physical education, with much more opportunity to dig deeper into a sport, to learn its history and exact rules as it is played today. This change is giving girls a chance to not only excel in performance but also in knowledge of sports.

Now about that weird looking steam that has been sighted. This is simply another change in the course, requiring girls to take showers after class. I know, at first all you heard was groans and cries about "gang showers" and "everybody watching". Well certainly no girl is going to be so busy looking at everyone else that she forgets that she herself is just one face in the crowd. The point is, that required showers are actually an added bonus to girls into sports. That refreshed, clean feeling you have after showering can give them an added lift and more spirit about what they are doing. I myself would prefer to take a shower after participating in a physically demanding sport like soccer, in which you can build up quite a sweat running up and down the field.

So, it is up to the individual. She can either benefit from these improvements, or ignore them if she doesn't think herself important enough to learn something or keep herself clean.

Boys Soccer

Wednesday was a bad day for the boys soccer team, when Andover took its first loss of the season to Belmont, 5 - 4, making their record 4 wins, 1 loss.

Goals were scored by Pat Atwell with 2 and Marty Geer 2.

The Panthers won their fifth game of the season Friday, when they beat Seno 1 - 0.

The only point scored in the game was by Marty Geer. Geer took a pass from Guy Milligan to score the lone goal in the first quarter of play. Good Job Boys.

Saturday was a victorious day for the Panthers when they defeated Friendship 3 - 2 in a double overtime game.

Marty Geer and Mike McNeill scored goals for Andover during the first four quarters of play. In the first overtime, Eric MacMichael scored the winning goal. There was no scoring in the final quarter.

Steve Buckwalter was born in the Jones Memorial Hospital on April 14, 1960. He has six sisters and four brothers.

Steve is a senior at Andover Central School and is involved in many interscholastic activities. He's played on the boys' soccer team for four years, tennis for three years, and on the swim team for three years. He's in the National Honor Society and has taken Choir for two years. Steve is the Editor of the Yearbook, and is on the Principal's Advisory Council. He majors in Science.

His plans for after graduation are to go to college, preferably Cornell, where he will major in an agricultural program.

His hobby happens to be sports. As we can see, Steve seems to be quite active in school. Best of luck after graduation, Steve.
