Advent - Time For Potentials
 Come, Maranatha, Come; Come Emmanuel, Ransom us your people. Make us into a new creation that we may experience and live Your hope, justice and love. These are the themes of Advent: God coming down to us so that He can raise us up to Himself; He becomes man so that we may become divine-like.

All this transformed and unification come to us, not because we deserve or are worthy of His special graces and blessings, but because He loves us so much He wants to become our special Lord and us to be His special people His family, on earth.

Christ is giving Himself to us. But all giving deserves, requires and demands an accepting, a taking. Hence, we must take Christ into our personal, daily lives and show by positive, good deeds that He is really Our God and we are His chosen people.

Advent is here and Christmas will soon be here. Let us take this time, this special season of grace, to pray more, to better learn His Truth that will make us free, to live more concretely in our every day lives all of His Commandments. Let us take time in this holy season of preparation to bring ourselves closer to Him, so that we may experience more fully that inner joy and special peace that only He can give. Let us make ourselves into that special creation, that new person, He wants us to be. Let us give ourselves to Him, so that He can receive us into His eternal dominion and crown us with glory and honor hereafter, and grant us herein the joy and peace we all seek. We have the potentials for betterness and greatness. Let us make them actualities. God bless us one and all.

P. S. God does make house-calls. He knocks on the door of our hearts. (Rev. 3:20) Let us welcome Him into our lives.
