Everyone was so interested in planning our Christmas Ball. It was something different then. The usual school dances.

But here it, is, almost a week and a half away until the dance everybody still wants. The dance even with nothing done. Im not sure it will turn out the steeres we thought it would because we've waited until the last minute to get everything ready. Some don't even care one way or the other whether we have it or not.

I feel it was a good idea if we have it or not.

I feel it was a good idea if we have it or not.

I feel it was a good idea if we have been a little more arganized I also feel that part of it had to do with the "A" and "B" misunderstanding. We acted like idiots not wanting to talk to each other because of our differences. That should have been over a long time ago but apparently it wasn't.

All thave to say, is I hope its a success and I'm sure it will be if we get it together and start working as" a group and drop all grudges against one onother; other wise we're going to make fools of ourselves if the Ball "falls through".

All of you have seen or noticed that the 77-78 baskitball season is underway again this year, and as usual, they will probably need your support.

support.

Just like all other sports, the people of Andover need to give their support & 99', of the people do.

The team has been practicing-hard for about four weeks now getting ready for their first game.

The first game was December 6 here on our home court, against Friendship.

So come on out to the games and cheer the Andover Panthers win or lose

Have you people of Andover heard he news yet? No, I mean about December 22. The afternoon that the students of ACS show the community that there is good in all of us.

There will be various activities For example: Mrs Baker is taking fifty students to the Bath Nursing Home to enertain the patients.

fifty students to the Bain Aurishy
Home to enertain the patients.

There will be a dinner at the Grange Hall for the Golden Agers, and students will help to serve them dinners.

A decorating committee will be decorating the school and, the Catholic Church, and the downtown area.

And after that is done there will be a party for grades 9 - 12 in the Cafeteria to finish off the afternoon.

NOTICE!

Have you ever noticed that five minutes before dismissal all the students get very restless? They make a trip to their locker to take care of their books and put on their coats so they can make a fast trip out the front doors.

As soon as the clock ticks to the time of their dismissal they are on their feet and at the door before the bell rings. They find an extra spurt of energy that they haven't had all day, but it's enough to sprint down the sidewalks away from the school.

Maybe wint we need are covers for the clocks, or perhaps we could install seat belts, which would only release when the bell rings

Sculptures On Display At Fosdick Nelson Gallery

A one-man show of sculptures by Glenn Zweygardt, a faculty artist at the New York State College of Ceramics at Alfred University, will be on dispiay through December 22 in the school's Fosdick Nelson Gallery

The show, entilted "Landscape Revisited." will be on view to the area public weekdays from 11 a. m. to 4 p. m. and Saturdays from Noon to 5 p. m. Admission is free.

Noon to 5 p. m. Admission is free.

Zweygardt's work is characterized by balanced constructions of Massive timbers and metal beams. His compositions center on the theme of "upheaval" — what Zeygardt calls a subjective state ment about the geological phen omena that have given form to the earth.

Zweygardt is a frequent contributor to art exhibitions in New York State and his work is tepre sented in the permanent collections of several museums.
